Community input is a critical component of UC Berkeley's process for developing new projects. We invite our neighbors to an open house to share background and planning details for an improved beach volleyball facility at Clark Kerr Campus.

The proposed facility would replace existing beach volleyball courts at Clark Kerr Campus with a modern training and competition facility. First and foremost, this project demonstrates the value UC Berkeley places on gender equity, including access to equitable athletics facilities for our male and female student-athletes. In addition, we must maintain compliance with the provisions of Title IX that support and protect those very same values.

Representatives from UC Berkeley will be on-hand to engage with the community, to share information about this project, and to listen to your input. Light refreshments will be served.

We look forward to welcoming you.
